Adopting a cloud iPaaS platform can be challenging. The hardest part can sometimes be just getting started. With this package, Informatica Professional Services will help you gain confidence in using the Informatica Intelligent Cloud Services platform, showing value by rapidly building and deploying your first production data or application integration use case.

The Cloud Express package is designed to get you up and running quickly by leveraging the advanced skills of our experienced Cloud consultants to make rapid progress on the specific use case of your choice.

Alternatively and by agreement, the engagement time can be used to address specific customer questions, or to resolve specific blocking issues that are slowing your adoption of the IICS platform.

The Cloud Express package is a two-week engagement.

Areas of Focus

- Understand and validate a specific customer usage of the IICS platform
- Prototype and build that usage
- Deploy and test that implementation in the customer environment

Key Program Deliverables / Details

- Specific deliverables vary for each Cloud Express engagement, but would usually include designing, building, testing, and deploying a production-ready integration or similar use case.
- Additionally, the consultant on a Cloud Express engagement typically validates and configures the IICS organizations and Secure Agents that are in the available customer environments.
